

Riding the Red Line

As the Red Line is a service that is brand new to our riders and our bus operators, we expect there may be delays and occasional challenges for the first few weeks. Please be patient as everyone works to get comfortable with the system and ensure that everything is working together properly.

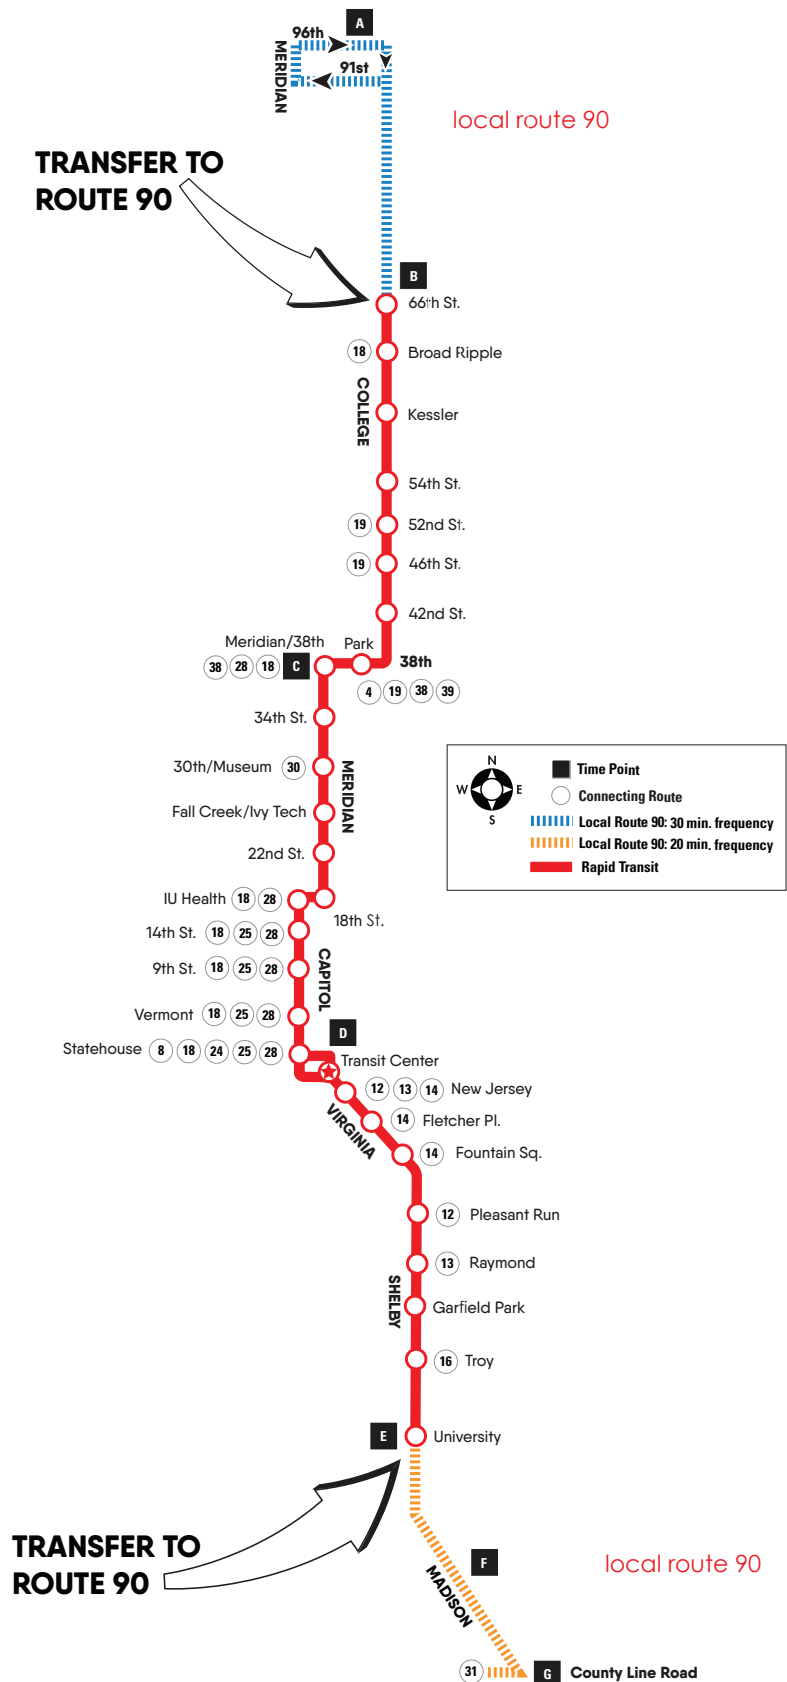

Trips north and south of the 13-mile Red Line corridor will be served by IndyGo local service. These routes will be called Route 90 and will offer free transfers at 66th and College and at the University of Indianapolis. The Red Line rapid portion of the route is expected to operate approximately every 10-15 minutes.

If your trip starts or ends on College Avenue between 66th and 96th streets, IndyGo will serve riders with Route 90 via a transfer at the 66th and College Red Line station. Riders will board local service on the northeast corner of 66th and College, and this service will arrive every 30 minutes for the local on weekdays and 30 on weekends.

If your trip starts or ends on Madison or Shelby between University of Indianapolis and Greenwood Park Mall, IndyGo will serve riders with Route 90 via a transfer at the University of Indianapolis Red Line station. Riders will board on the east side of Shelby Street northbound at the station crosswalk, and this service will arrive every 20 minutes during the week and 40 minutes on weekends.

The Red Line and local extensions on College Avenue, Shelby Street, and Madison Avenue will be free for the month of September.

Within the coming months, IndyGo anticipates providing riders with a no-transfer, seamless trip north and south of Red Line stations along Route 90 using Red Line buses. Additional schedules and information will be provided.
